How to empower your ESP learners’ employability’

Ensure your students achieve a high level of communicative competence in a professional environment through the use of authentic material and development of all four language skills on real life situations. Practical approaches and techniques will be presented of how to use, expand and extend on engaging student-centred activities, use of video material and integration of technology that foster learner autonomy and self-reflection so as to increase and maintain the motivation of ESP students.

11.10–11.30. Перерыв на кофе-брейк, посещение книжной выставки (холл Большого зала главного корпуса ТГТУ, Советская 106)

11.30 -12.15. Plenary talk

Radislav Milrood, Doctor of Education, Professor, Honored Worker of Higher Education in RF, Tambov

Games between teachers and students of English for any purpose

The presentation is based on the game theory and treats gamification in English language teaching as an intriguingly organized procedure of challenges, moves and pay-offs. By st a game with the learners the teacher runs the risks of either winning or losing. The underlying dilemma is that without starting a game the teaching process is unlikely to bring learners to a higher stage of competence.
